Altona U3 A

University of the Third Age

The 'Third Age' in the title refers to a phase of life. After the first age of dependent childhood, comes the second age of independent adulthood in work and homemaking, followed by the third age, the age of active retirement.

For some, this is followed by a fourth age of dependence and senility; often not a happy age. It may be said that one of the major aims of Universities of the Third Age is the lengthening of the third age and the shortening (or even, perhaps, the elimination) of the fourth age. Courses include introduction to computers, history, book club and arm chair travel.
